POWERING A FUTURE-READY WORKFORCE

For this rail industry operator, managing growth means ensuring every employee is equipped to do their job to the peak of their abilities.

To support that ambition, and with the aid of Computacenter, the operator is now in the process of revolutionising its employee technology. Across devices, applications and the cloud, Computacenter is driving improved productivity, collaboration and user experience for its 35,000 personnel.

Ranging from convertible tablets to high-performance workstations, the operator's device strategy is now perfectly aligned to user requirements. With technology chosen in the context of how and where each person works, Computacenter's User Adoption Framework helps them to visualise the ways in which their device can improve their working life.

A migration to Windows 10 and Microsoft 365 underpins this approach, equipping employees with a leading suite of productivity and collaboration tools. Computacenter's Evergreen support model allows for the dynamic and secure deployment of feature releases, ensuring that users can quickly and easily benefit from the security and productivity innovations that comes with each new update. For the operator, the combined capabilities of Microsoft and Computacenter are helping to create an engaged, empowered, and future-ready workforce.
